Central District Health Department Defines Website Excellence

Boise, Idaho, 10/16/2000 - Central District Health Department, www.cdhd.org, has made major improvements to their public and environmental health website. CDHD's website is a simple, easy to use, concise source for public health information.

At www.cdhd.org visitors can view current, constantly updated health headlines from over 5000 health reporting sites around the world. Visitors can view and register for upcoming distance learning events on an extremely wide range of health related topics. View and register for upcoming training classes on a variety of topics related to restaurants, swimming pools, child safety, smoking cessation and others.

Health care organizations, health care providers, educators and daycare providers can learn more about the Immunization Registry and ImmuNET. Central District Health Department's website provides appointment and contact information for all departments including Environmental Health, Communicable Disease, Community Education, Immunizations, Senior Nutrition and Family Services. Each department provides a wealth of information and links to related sites.

Users of this website learn more about the many services provided by Central District Health Department. Each department site contains informational links, downloadable forms, contact information, recipes, menus, schedules and office hours.

Central District Health Department invites you to link to, bookmark and monitor this website for current health, immunization, outbreak information and health and safety training.
